

Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 01 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Persistent rain and coastal gales developing into Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:

Cloud building through the night with isolated showers fringing into southwestern coastlines at times. Turning blustery along coasts in the early hours of Saturday before more persistent rain moves into the far south west at the end of the night. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Saturday:

Rain, heavy at times, quickly arriving through the morning. This clearing by the end of the afternoon with scattered showers following. Coastal gales along the south coast and blustery elsewhere. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Sunny spells and showers, locally heavy and thundery, on Sunday and Monday. Potential for more persistent rain Tuesday. Generally remaining breezy, with coastal gales possible on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.